

Fire Balls for Fuel

Mix one bushel of small coal or sawdust, or both, with two bushels of sand and one bushel and a half clay.

Make the mixture into balls with water and pile them in a dry place to harden.

A fire cannot be lighted with these balls, but when it burns strong put them on above the top bar and they will keep up a strong heat.

Try this recipe at home and tag us on Instagram
@nmhistoricsites and #fortseldenhistoricsite

NEW MEXICO  HISTORIC SITES